Move of Translator K201BW to New Site
November, 2010

Minnesota Public Radio (MPR) proposes in this application to move translator K201BW to a new location , change the power, and change the height above ground and height above average terrain.

As the attached exhibit shows K201BW fully complies with all of the FCC rules regarding interference.

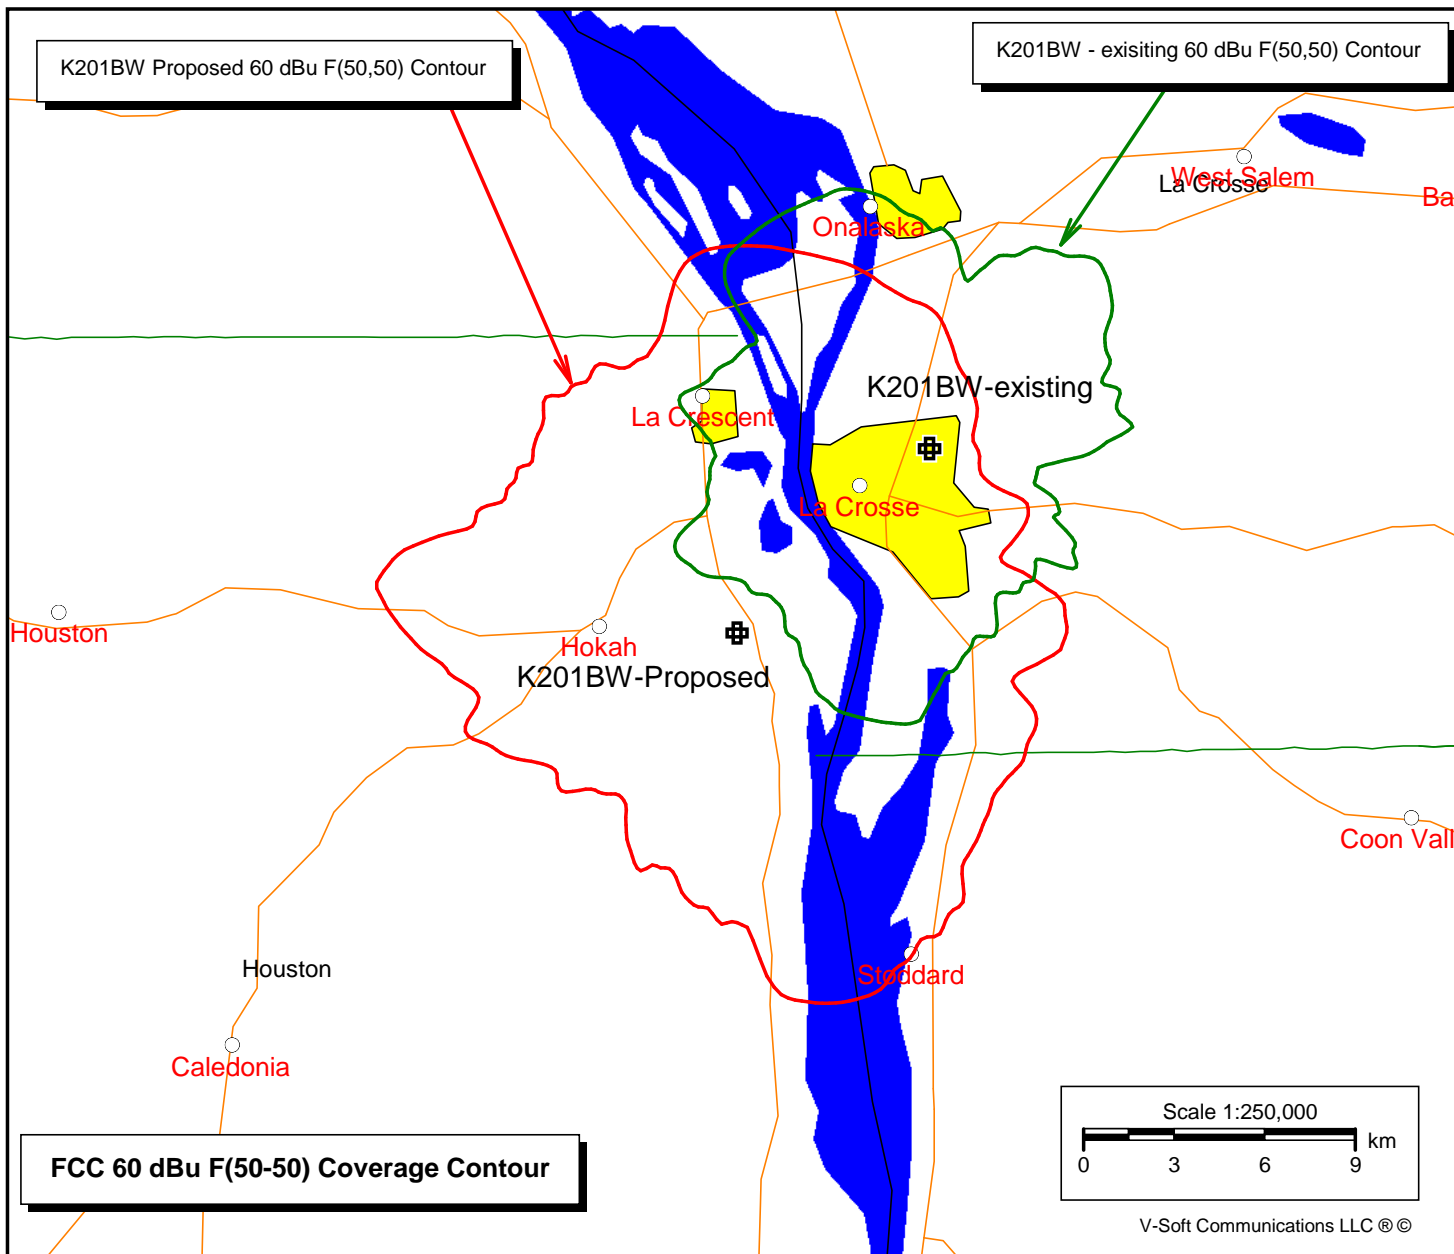

The attached contour map shows both the 1 mV/m service area of K201BW as currently licensed and the 1 mV/m service of the proposed new location. As can be seen on the map the proposed new location will continue to provide service to a substantial portion of the currently licensed service area.

HOW TO READ THE FM COMPUTER PRINT-OUT

Translator Reference Station

The computer printout should be self-explanatory for the most part. The parameters of the station being checked, (reference station) are printed in the heading. The 60 dBu protected contour is predicted from the Commission's F(50-50) table. Contour distances are in kilometers and are predicted using the Commission's TVFMINT FORTRAN subroutine. When interference contour distances are less than 16 kilometers the F(50-50) tables are used. If signal contour distances are less than 1.6 km the free-space equation is used.

All distances are derived by the method detailed in Sec. 73.208 of the Rules and Regulations as amended in Docket 80-90. The column labeled "* OUT *" shows the greatest distance in kilometers of overlap (or smallest distance of clearance) between the reference station's interference contour and the database station's protected contour. Negative distance figures in this column indicate outgoing contour overlap. Since translators are able to receive interference there is no "In" or incoming column in this report.

Listed antenna heights and power are the specific antenna heights and power from the FCC database.

Under the "AZI" column, the first row of numbers indicate the True North azimuths from the reference station toward the database stations, while the numbers in the second row indicate the reverse bearings from the database stations to the reference station. Bearings are calculated using spherical trigonometry.

The columns labeled "INT" and "PRO" contain the distance in kilometers of the appropriate interference contour and the protected contour of a data base station.

For I.F. relationships the minimum spacings the "IN" and "OUT" columns change their significance. The letter "R" stands for the minimum required distance in kilometers, while the letter "M" in the next column follows the available clear space separation in kilometers. Minimum separation distances when displayed are taken from Sec 73.207 of the rules as amended. Canadian and Mexican separation distances, U/D ratios and protected contour values are from the US/Mexican Working Agreement and the US/Canada Working Agreement".

The first three letters of the "TYPE" column identify the current FCC status of the stations. The fourth letter will be a "D" if the facility is directional. "Z" indicates a 73.215 directional. An "N" indicates it is a 73.215 station that operates with an omni-directional antenna. The fifth letter will be an E, H or V depending on the type of antenna polarization. The sixth letter will be a "Y" if the antenna uses beam tilt or an "X" if the commission is not sure, otherwise it will be an "N" or left blank.

Minor Change to Licensed Translator
K201BW
Channel 24 kw H & V
November 24, 2010

In this application Minnesota Public Radio (MPR) is proposing to change location and power of K201BW. The translator antenna will be mounted on an existing short tower. This tower is under 60 meters high and does not have a ASR number. Since the tower was built before March 16, 2001 it was decided that further environmental study was unnecessary.

MPR is proposing to use a Celwave ECFM-2, two section, circularly polarized antenna that will transmit .062 kw effective radiated power with a center of radiation of 48 meters above ground. A study of the proposed installation was done utilizing the FCC's FM Model software*. The FM Model software does not have in its database the model of antenna proposed by MPR. MPR conducted the study using a 'worst case' condition of a single section antenna with the poorest downward radiation characteristics. The study of the installation shows the non-ionizing radiation at two meters above ground at the base of the tower to be approximately $1.2 \mu\text{W}/\text{cm}^2$. This is .6% of the $.2\text{mW}/\text{cm}^2$ that is the maximum non-ionizing radiation permitted for an uncontrolled area.

There is one other FM translator antenna on the tower. Since the non-ionizing radiation contributed by the proposed antenna is less than 1% of the maximum permitted no further calculations were necessary.

MPR will reduce power or cease transmission in order to protect workers on the tower.

The proposed translator installation is in full compliance with the FCC's regulations regarding human exposure to radiofrequency electromagnetic fields.
